STATEMENT OF EVIDENCE:

No records were found to identify this corner after its original placement by the U.S. Government Survey.

A close inspection of the area revealed no evidence of monument. Accessories thereto consist of poorly defined occupation east and west and an abandoned road running north and south which was discounted as evidence of the corner's east-west location due to its wandering nature.

I therefor consider this corner Lost and fixed its position by measurements to nearest established corners north and south, proportioned to respective distances of the original survey.
